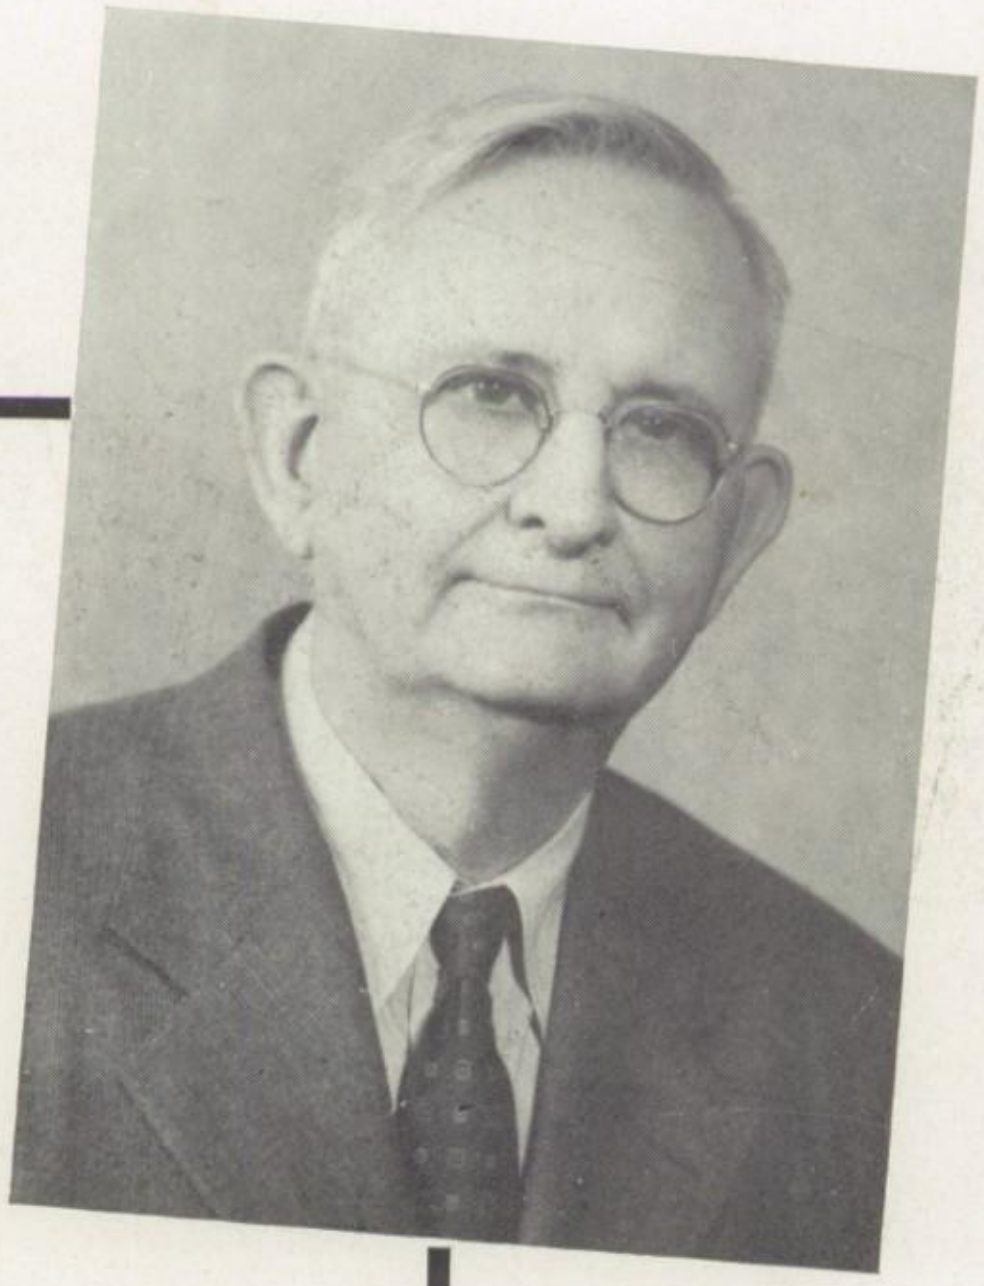
In Memoriam

In the death of George H. Telle, our school suffered an irreparable loss. Associated with the school in various capacities for 24 years, Mr. Telle was a man of varied interests and talents. His work was a constant source of enjoyment to him; it was his hobby as well as his living.

Perhaps one thing that endeared Mr. Telle to all who knew him was his ability to see the best side of everything—to find the good in everyone. We all feel our loss. And we know that we shall always remember George H. Telle as one of the finest persons we have ever known.



GEORGE H. TELLE

Someone once said, "Life is an art—to live it to the fullest extent an even greater art." During the past few years this has been especially true. A war has brought the average teen-ager into the spotlight and given him a chance in many ways to "live his life to the fullest extent".

. . . Paint it well!

Your home and school—your friends and associations—all form your pattern or "picture of life". Right here in our "Studio" we are practicing for the creation of masterpieces to come. Step back now—look at your life in school as depicted in the following pages. Watch the painting of a picture of life—vintage of 1946 A. D.

Outside there may be . . .

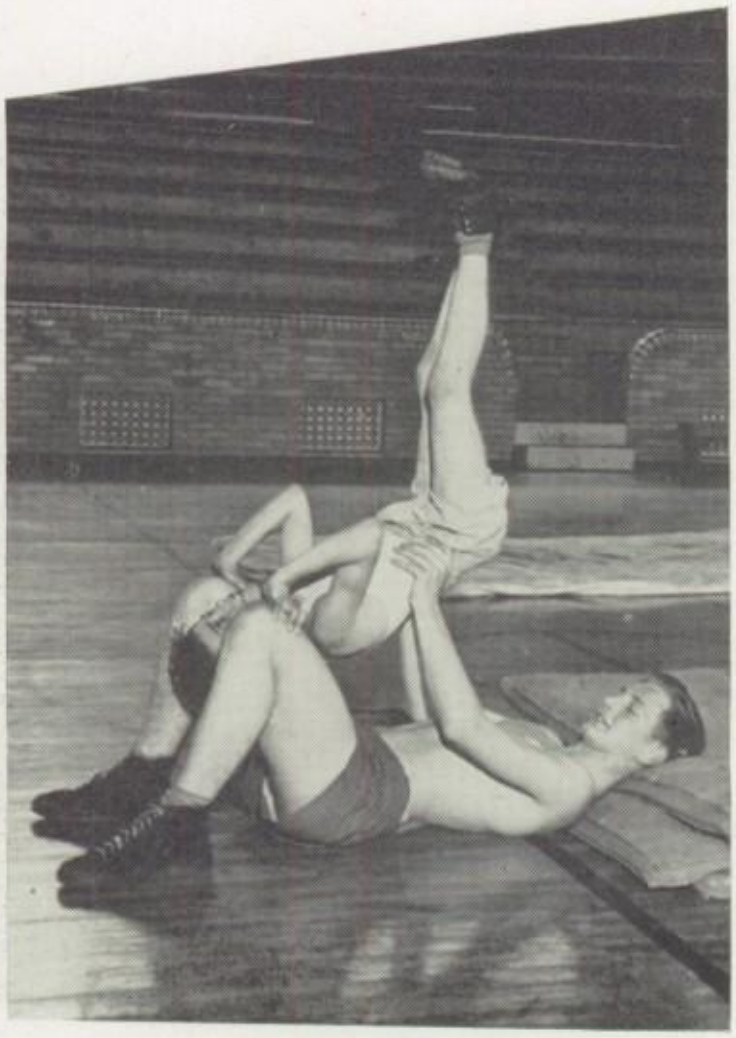
School

The Gallery



High school students have been called "giddy" by many who are willing to take things on surface value. But the far-sighted person could tell you that that is just what it is—surface value. And a little thought on the subject will bring forth interesting results.

Here in our own school at the same time you see a crowd of crewcuts guffawing at the latest wise-crack, you also can observe—if you will notice—a high school student explaining a difficult problem in physics. While whispers and giggles go on at lockers during the "between-class" interval, perhaps these same students can be seen next period delving into the lives of such men as Thomas Jefferson and Abe Lincoln.

So, in the pages to come, you will see the formal, classroom side of our scholastic picture. This section is your Art Gallery of culture and dignity. Walk in and have a look.

Blue printing for tomorrow's citizens

With Mr. Wagner's departure for the Crawfordsville schools, we welcomed E. Phillips Blackburn of Union City. Mr. Blackburn has shown already in many ways that he is the students' friend. His pleasing personality and ready humor have made him popular among students and teachers alike. We have found Mr. Blackburn to be a top-ranking educator.

In January, Joseph C. Wagner, our superintendent of schools for eight years, left to take a position at Crawfordsville. We deeply regretted his resignation, but knew it was an advancement; and so our good wishes went with him. Mr. Wagner's keen interest in school affairs and pleasing personality endeared him to every student and teacher. We wish him every success at Crawfordsville.

Below: George Fulton, Elmer Lucas.

It is always necessary to have an efficient "board of directors" in any smooth-running organization—and we are proud that we have that in the persons of President George Fulton; Secretary Raymond Maddox; and Treasurer Elmer Lucas. These men, prominent in the business world as well as our school life, are all vitally interested in all youth problems and have proved this by the efficiency with which they have performed their duties as members of our school board. Miss Leila Lewis, as clerk and auditor, has performed her duties with the same efficiency that has always marked her services to the school.

Guiding busy artists

Two years ago Mr. Pribble took over the reins as principal of Hartford City High School and in that time he has proved his interest in the students by his willingness to straighten out our "snags", whether they pertain to program or extra-curricular activities. Our thanks go to Mr. Pribble for his ready advice and consideration.

Kind, cheerful, always willing to hear our troubles, Miss Borden has served as assistant principal and girls' dean for several years. Under her guiding hand, new students are always made welcome and problems smoothed out easily — whether pertaining to school or social life. We're grateful and proud to have Miss Borden a part of our school.

"Coming in" and "going out" parties highlighted the faculty and administration's social calendar this year. A farewell event for Supt. Wagner was held in December with an appreciative tribute to the Wagners for their long service to the community. The Blackburn family was then feted in January at a tea held in the Home Economics Room by faculty members. Pictured here is Mr. Pribble acting as "cup-bearer" to the new superintendent.

Leaders of graduating artists

It was September, 1942, and just another year of school to a lot of tenderfoot freshmen. But what a year! Wrong directions, wrong classrooms, wrong cuts. We had a snazzy group of officers, too. Charles Ridgeway was president; Janet Gough, vice-president; Marjorie Russell, secretary; and Gerald Guy, treasurer. Our sponsors, who guided our wavering steps, were Miss Harter and Mr. Parks.

Then we were sophomores and a little more cocky and well-worn to the "grind". We looked at the newcomers with a pitying air, and secretly mopped our brow, glad that the ordeal of the first year was behind us. We elected Gerald Guy as our president; Frank Kirkpatrick, vice-president; Elaine Morris, secretary; and Beverly Thomason, treasurer. Sponsors were Mrs. Williamson and Mr. Parks, who were now pretty used to us.

Sponsors: Marion Williamson, Albert Mahin.

Officers: Robert Rice, treasurer; Gene Shady, vice-president; Mary Sue Johnson, secretary; Frank Kirkpatrick, president.

With the guidance of Mrs. Williamson and Mr. Austin we produced the sell out, "Ever Since Eve". With the proceeds we gave our annual prom in May. It was in bleak November that we went on that hilarious hayride—and on Friday the 13th, too! Stepping on the gay merry-go-round of our junior year were Gene Shady, president; Bob Ball, vice-president; Helen Peterson, secretary; and Bob Rice, treasurer.

1945! Ah, we have arrived! Magazine campaign. Retro sales. Work, work, work. And interlacing our last year at Hartford High were all the good times we could possibly cram in. Mrs. Williamson and Mr. Mahin boosted our spirits and aided us in carrying the magazine sales over the top. Class prexy was Frank Kirkpatrick; vice-president, Gene Shady; secretary, Mary Sue Johnson; and treasurer, Bob Rice.

Four full years—and they were good ones!

This honor roll is a compilation based on the records of members of the Class of 1946 up to the close of the first semester of the current year. To be eligible for listing the senior must have an average citizenship standing of not less than A- and a scholastic average of not less than 90 percent.

Grades made during the last semester of enrollment are considered in the determination of the ranking which is recorded on the graduate's permanent record.

TRANSITION

By "Bev" Thomason and Marjorie Russell

Long ago in '42
A bunch of greenies started through.
A grind so torturous and killing,
We survived to rate top billing.

As sophies we were solid, plus.
Silly, smart, ridiculous.
History, English, geometry, too.
Crew cuts, bangs and bracelets were new.

Class play, banquets and the annual prom
Occupied our time as we slid along.
A little more intelligent, and more refined,
As juniors (so we were defined)!

We sold magazines by the score,
And sold the Retro even more.
1946! Hurray, we're done!
There's been lots of work—and lots of fun.

ALMA MATER

Music—"By the Waters of Cayuga"
Words—By the Neit Club

Hail to you, our alma mater!
Loyal we've been and true.
Through our high school days we wandered,
Now, goodbye to you.
Class plays and dances and basketball, too,
Books and tests to review.
So farewell our alma mater,
High school days are through.

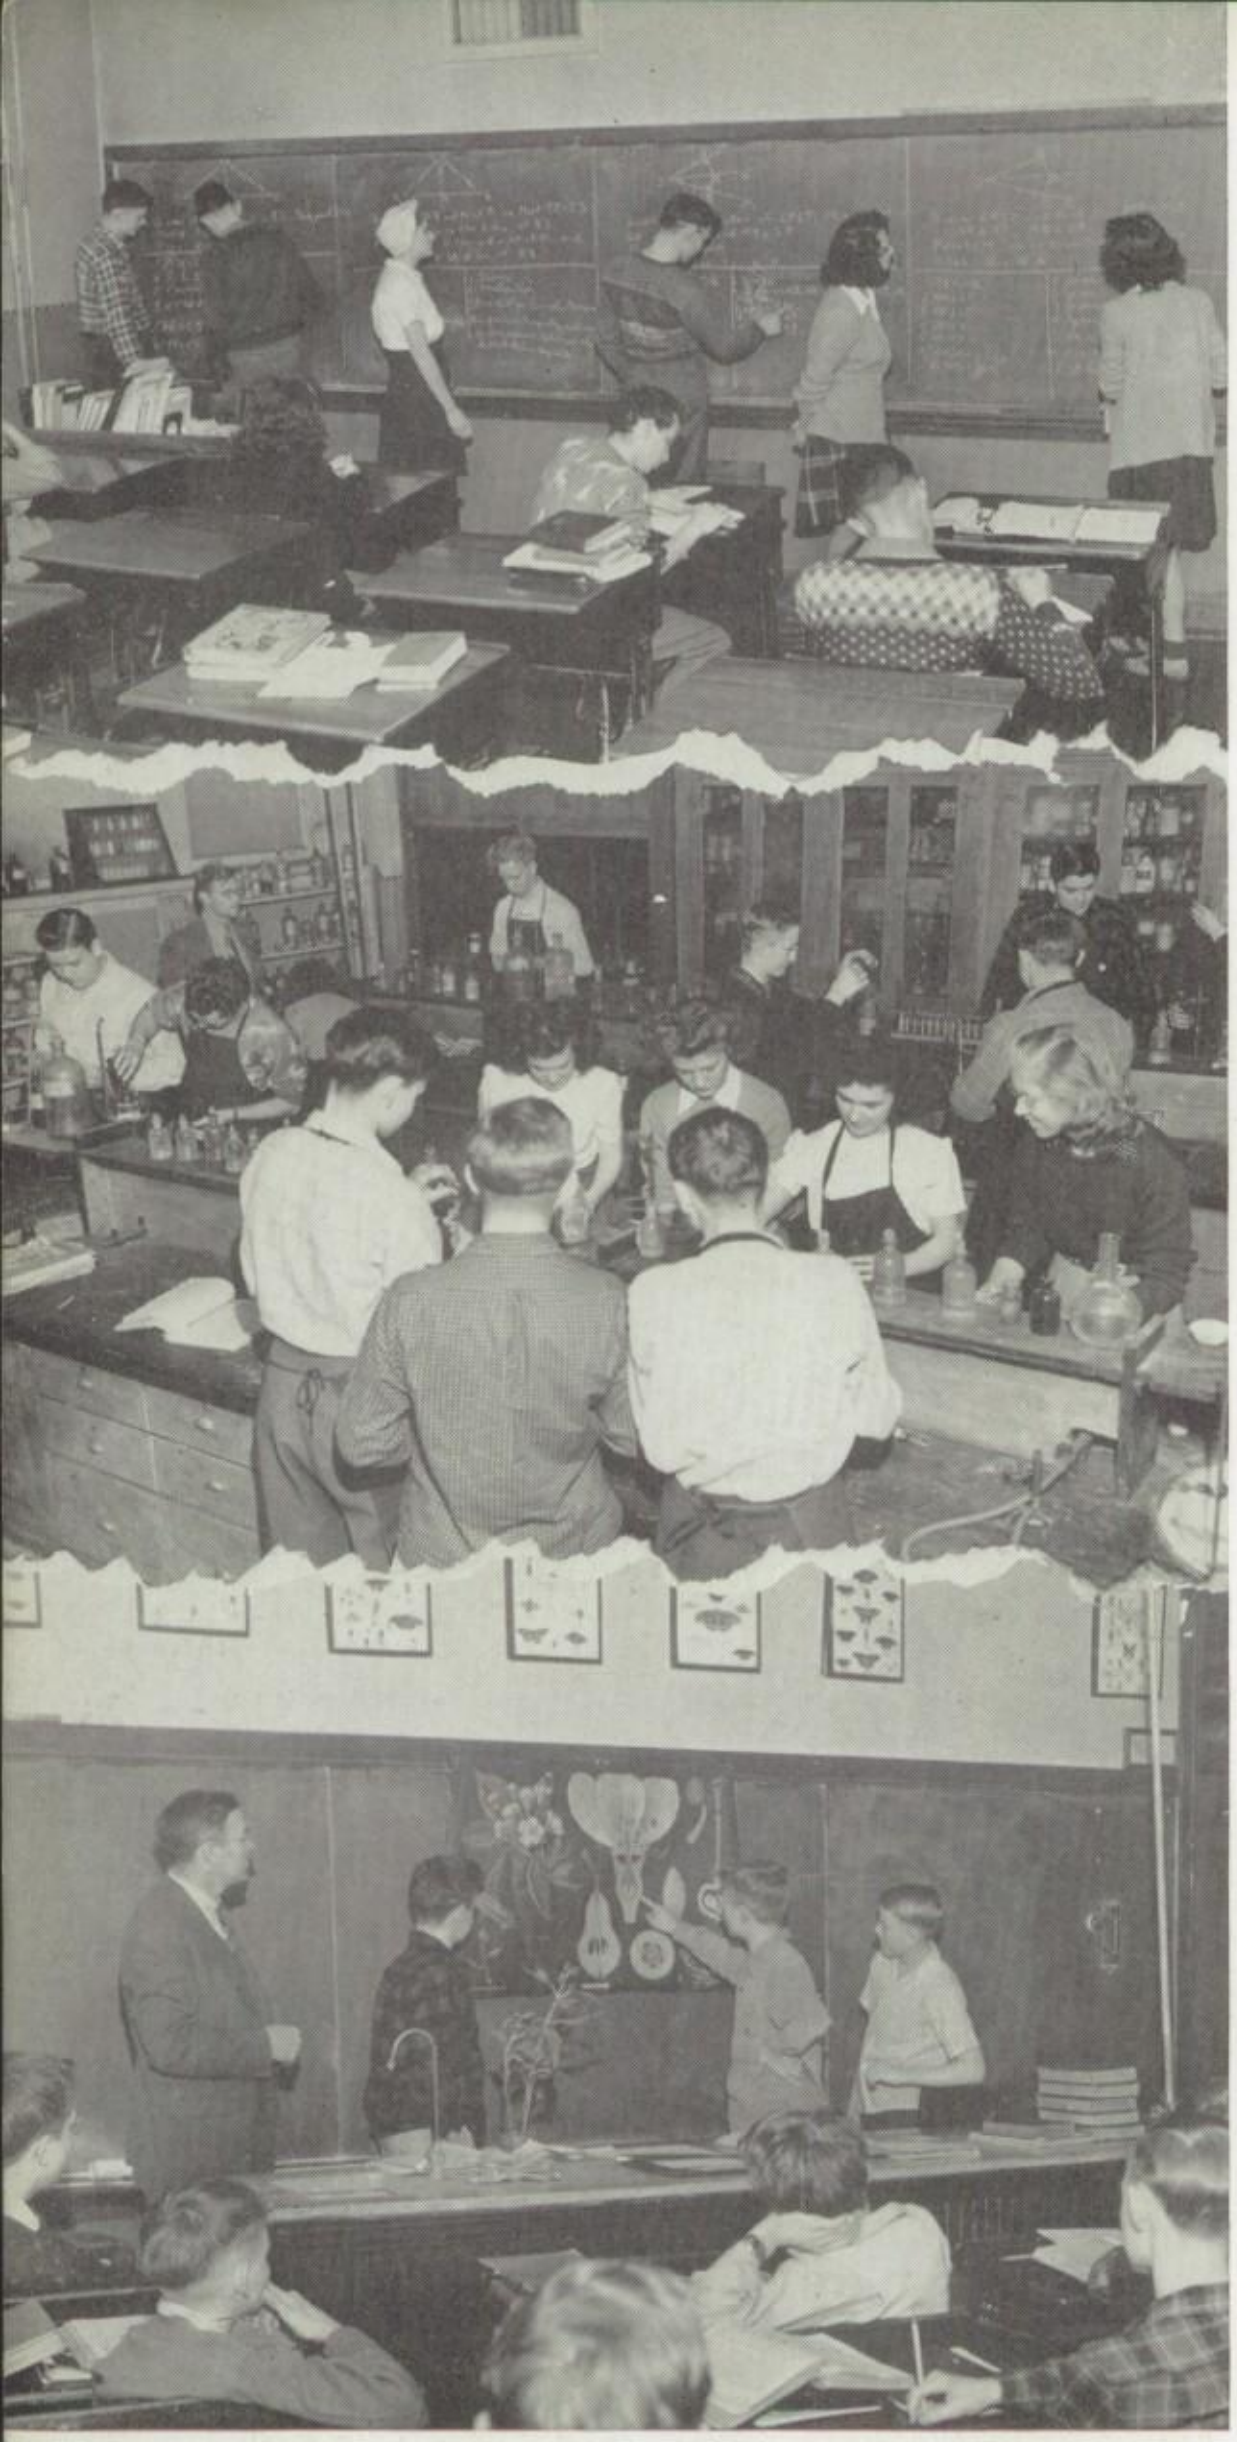
Classroom Sketches

And just imagine, the Frenchmen think the English language is complicated! Oh well, just what has Boyer or Hildegarde got that we haven't got? Besides, it does give one a certain feeling of superiority to rattle off a few French phrases to his classmates once in a while.

English class offers to its pupils a new and decidedly different interpretation of the Mother language, which is based entirely on rules—and exceptions—and on an equal amount of do's and don't's. But, incidentally, the student's own interpretation is sometimes in the advanced stages and can be cured only with drill—and plenty of it!

Anyone can tell you who discovered America. But the progressive person must also know the date. That is why Hartford Hi offers to its students a two-year course in history, covering not only America's discovery but everything from what the first man ate for supper to Dewey's defeat for the presidency.



It takes only two semesters of geometry class to make those happy-go-lucky sophomores appreciate the finer points of higher education. Amid quadrangles, circumferences, rectangles, S A S equals S A S, and "Notebooks due tomorrow", the student emerges to prove to the world that any three-sided figure is a triangle.

Good old lab—the dessert of the chem course! It's where our junior scientists gather to explore that scientific world of liquids and crystals . . . where the Bunsen burner holds the spotlight and the creator of the most unique odor or explosive holds the envy of his fellow classmates.

Ah, biology! That's the class where the freshmen are the privileged characters involved. With their eager minds (not yet worn by the more rugged years of school life), they search for the answer to such puzzling questions as just exactly how the corn borer got here from Hungary.

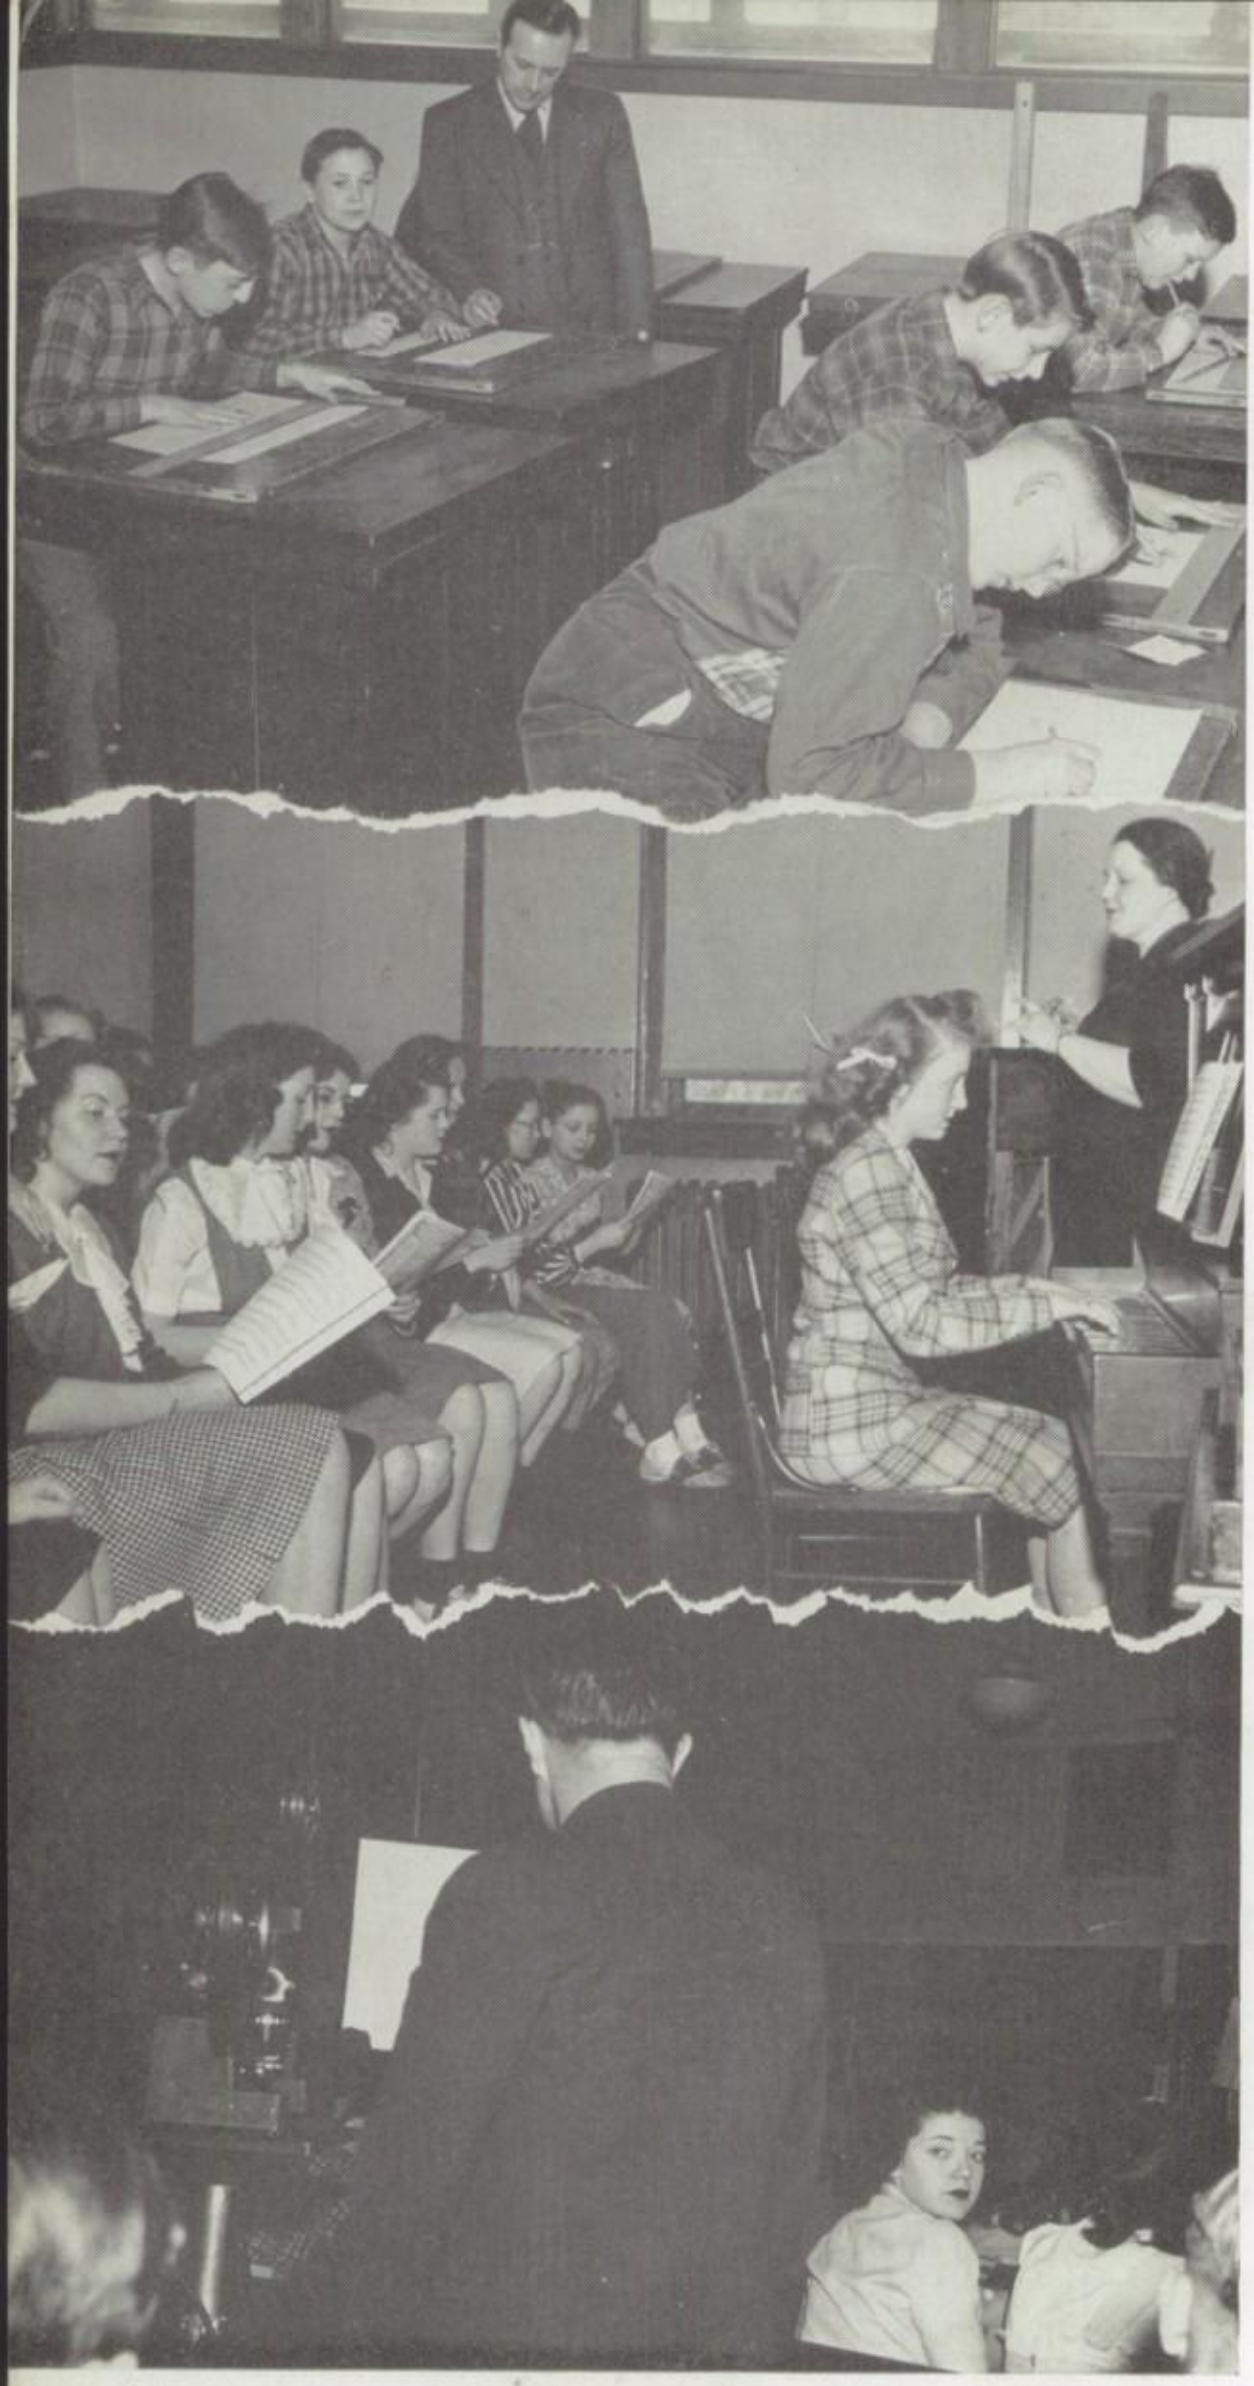
As necessary to the picture . . .

. . . as a brush to the artist

Under the supervision of Mr. Robert Austin these boys are getting their training for post-high school vocations. Running a lathe, making moulds, doing foundry work, reading, and making blue-prints—all these experiences will help our "men of tomorrow" to be better equipped for the future.

Home Ec is one class that involves all of Hartford Hi's 760 students for at least twice a week. The feminine chefs start mixing some of Mother Nature's products in an attempt to master the art of cooking. Then the fumes start drifting through the building ranging from odors of toothsome cakes to burned spaghetti. There's no escaping.

Wood shop offers its opportunities to any student who desires a view of the carpenter's life. With hammer in hand and confidence in self, the pupil starts his way through a course which provides, as its finished product, a worth-while hobby or an interesting profession.



"Johnny" and his mechanical drawing class reside in a secluded room amid T-squares, rulers, and those fascinating desks with the high stools. Perhaps you have peered through a window to be rewarded with the sight of a small boy wrestling with an exceedingly large blueprint of maybe some home of the future.

Everyday about 1:05 familiar tunes start floating through the halls and weave their way through shorthand dictation, whispering conversations, and the pounding feet of the gym class. All the melody can be traced to room 38, two pianos, a score of girls and Miss Nesbit.

Learning by sight. They say this is the newest thing in education. So about once a week the students gather in dimly lit study hall to see their favorite history, health, or science story re-enacted, while they leisurely look on. Let's have more of these modern conveniences.

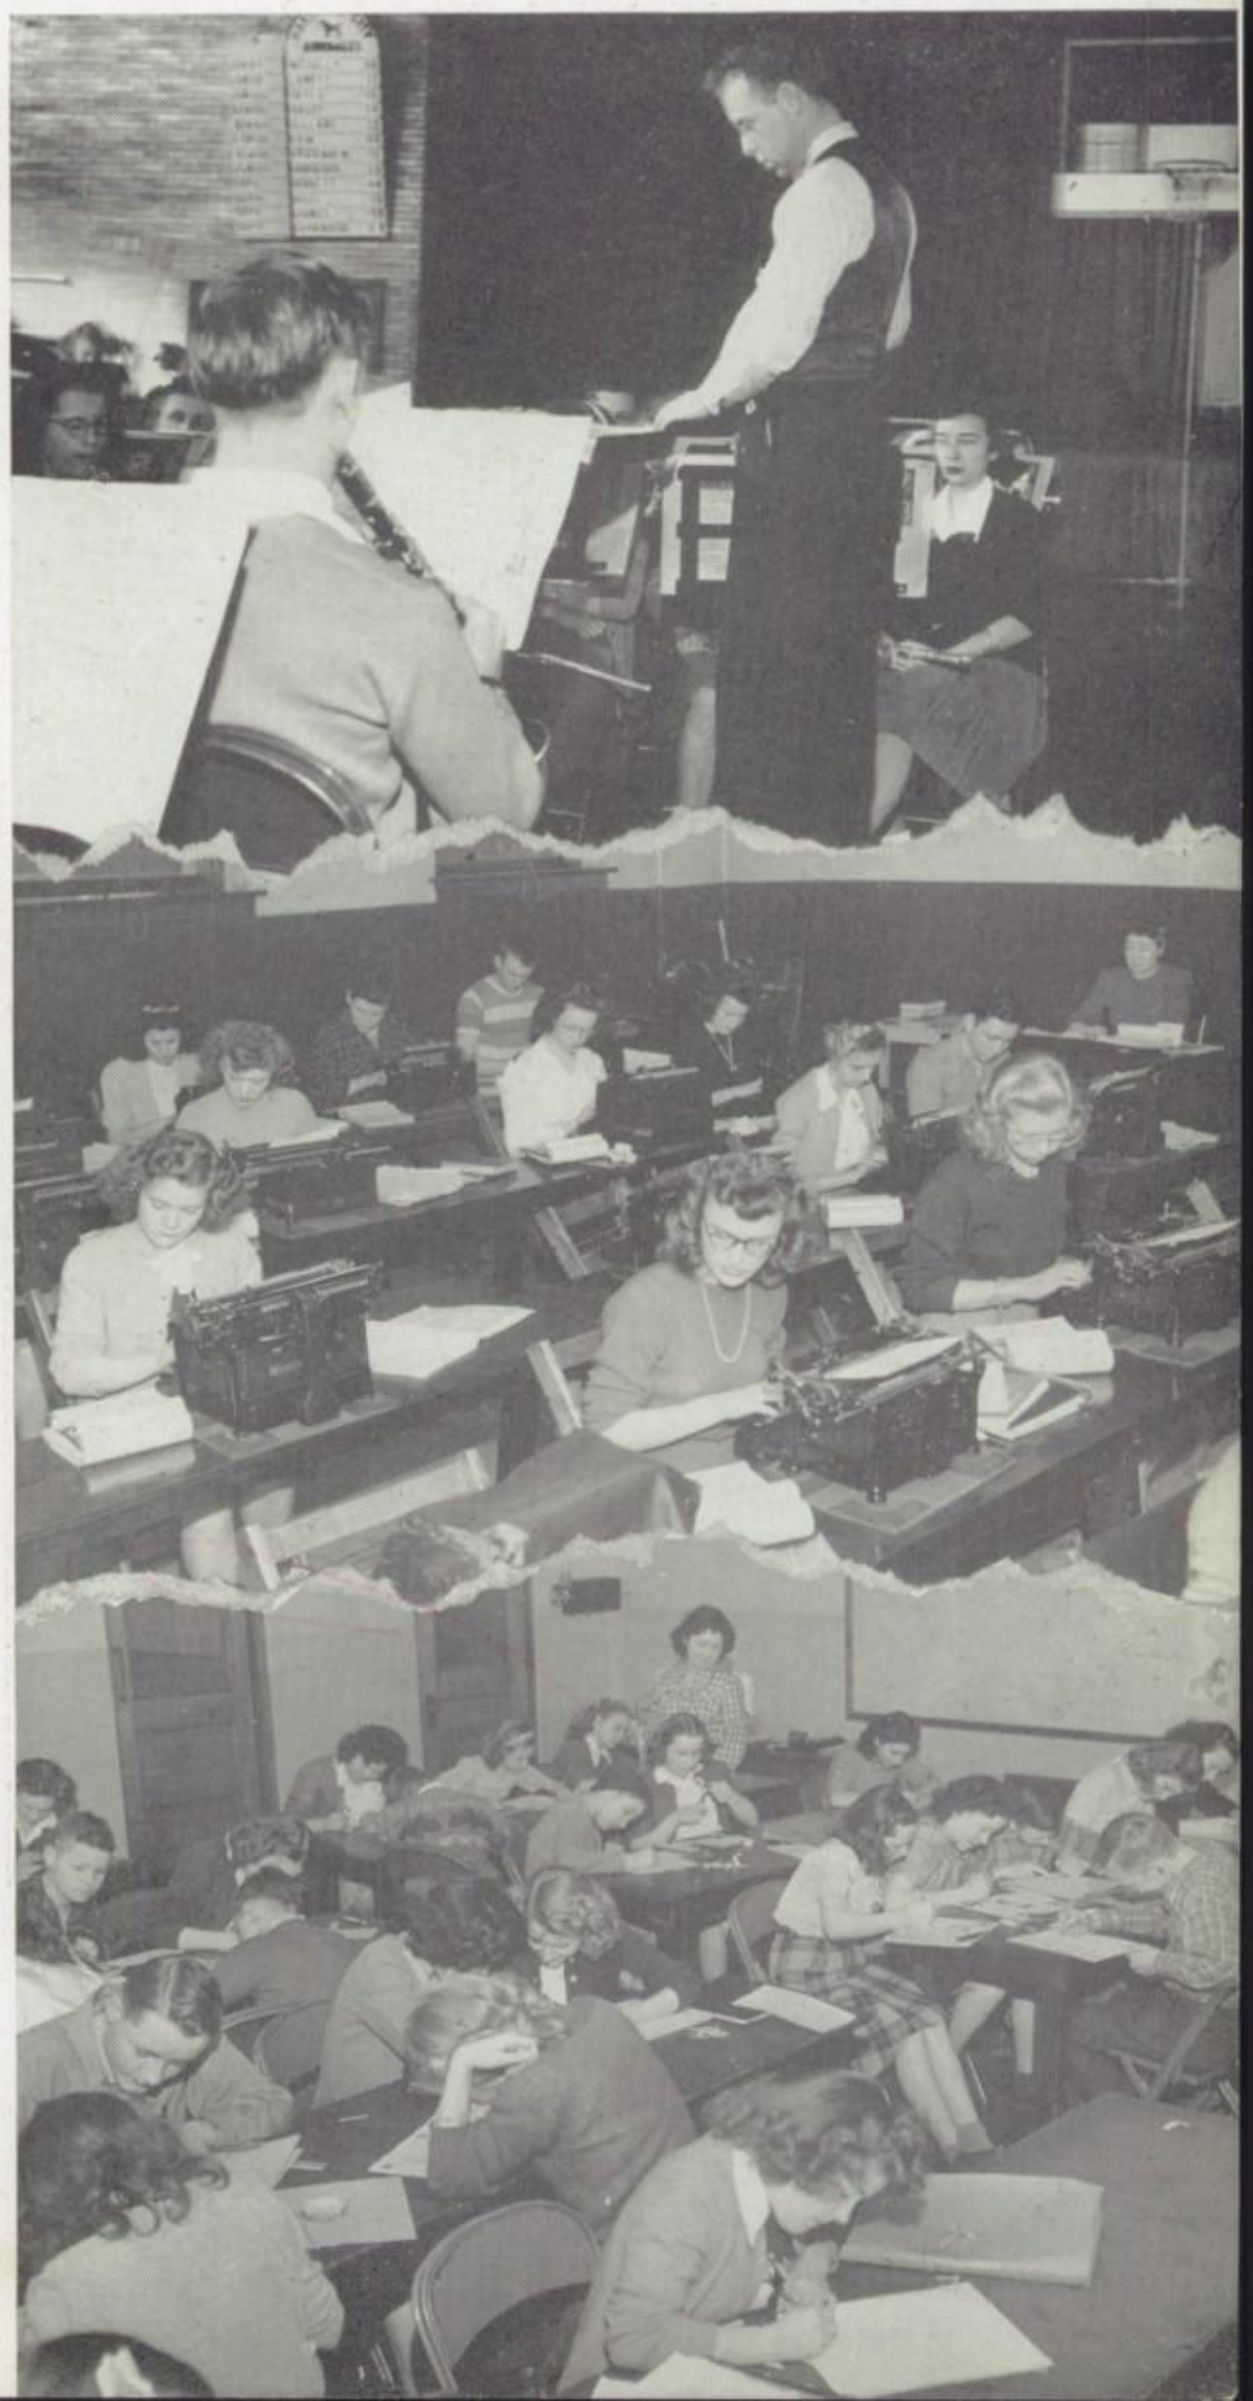
Numerous studies combine to give . . .

. . . a worthy contribution

"Limey", as Mr. E. L. Brittan is affectionately called by his future "philharmonic members", has really succeeded in smoothing out the squeaks and flats in his bands. The finished product has been the pride of HCHS throughout the year at concerts, at basketball and football games, and at graduation exercises.

If you have an energetic mind, a set of muscular fingers, and the ability to distinguish your bell from 30 others, you have the makings of a typist. Once you've mastered the fundamentals and your fingers become accustomed to their daily workout, you are ready for the accuracy and speed tests. Some fun!

A picture no artist can paint! But just ask our art class and they can paint it. Although the works of the Masters are indeed considered great, some of the pictures our art class turns out will never be forgotten. Just assemble paint, a poster, some students, Miss Willman. Presto—a masterpiece.



An intense physical education program was carried out this year, and, despite the groans and gripes of both boys and girls, it has really benefited all who participated.

In recent years, a physical fitness program has been conducted for the boys five days a week. These classes, which are supplemented by the regular physical education course, include intense calisthenic drills, track running, basketball, football, baseball, boxing, wrestling, tumbling, and other exercises to build strong bodies.

As for the girls, although their program is not quite so rugged as the boys', they still put a lot of effort and enthusiasm into calisthenics, volleyball, tumbling, basketball, soccer, softball, and dancing, all of which help to develop their co-ordination (so they say).

Art in two parts

"Something new has been added"—say the hard-working D. O. members as they glance at their assignment sheets. "You lucky guys!" This from their envious classmates as they see the "working class" depart for their various jobs at all hours of the day.

"Were you at work?" asks Mr. Myers when you bring the excuse for yesterday's absence from school to activity. Yes, it's fun—but it's work, too. (Yeah, but you get paid!)

The senior band, composed of 74 members, is a musical organization dedicated to the purpose of creating a desire in students to express themselves through music. It develops a sure sense of rhythm, accuracy, and an altogether broader musical horizon.

During the intermissions of the basketball games held in our gymnasium, the band presented the score of martial numbers and also entertained the fans with a few popular tunes.

On February 6, 1946, the senior band presented a program designed to inform the public of its progress and to raise money to meet the expenses of the band.

The apex of the musical progress of the band was the performance at the baccalaureate and commencement exercises in May.

. . . bringing pride and pleasure

Mr. Brittan continued this year as the competent conductor and instructor of the school instrumental program. The responsibility of preparing the senior band for its public appearances, developing the junior band into the basis of a coordinate musical group, and the training of the grade school students as future band members is his—and he is doing a fine job.

Interest in Miss Esther Nesbit's classes in the sectional practice of the Girls' Glee Club and also her music classes in the three grade schools are maintained by her patience, charm, and helpful attitude.

The main project in her work is the presentation of the Glee Club at the Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises in May. Each spring, the Girls' Glee Club reaches its apex and presents at these annual events a program consisting of several numbers that are chosen for their harmony, public interest, and appropriateness for the occasion.

The Girls' Glee Club has a representation of all four senior high classes and also a few ambitious students from the junior high.

Past! Did Columbus discover America in 1492—or was that when Caesar ruled Rome? No,—it was not when the Declaration of Independence was signed! That was in 1865! . . . What's an event in history that I can answer roll call with? Oh! I know—July 26, 1928! What's that? Why, that's when I was born!

And this is why History Club sponsors grow gray.

Civic influences add distinction

"Merry Christmas, chillun. Sorry I'm late, but I had a meeting with so-and-so from thus-and-such and I just couldn't get here a bit sooner!" Mr. Erne smiles sweetly. Of course he is forgiven (would you believe it, there are times when he forgets and doesn't come at all!). A select club for those "dignified" seniors who are members of economics and civics classes only, the organization meets one Wednesday each month—if the members 'member.

. . . scientists lay cornerstones

Ugh! What an awful smelling concoction! You'd never believe anyone would want to make such a vile mess! What's it good for, anyway? And is that the way sound really looks!? You mean my voice looks that way? Goodness—it doesn't sound that way!

An example of what could happen—but we hope it won't! Messrs. Crouse, Telle, and Mahin were the iron hands over this dangerous group of would-be-scientists who furthered the ideas in meetings that were wafted unceremoniously on them in Chem or Physics classes. And wait till the results are known!

The Sketchbook

It's nice to put on your best behavior—along with your Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes and march sedately off to church with the family, isn't it? But how—well, boring—to have to live in the stiff garments of prim formality and Sunday clothes all week! And evidently some all-knowing power foresaw this affliction, for recreation in multitudinous forms has been provided for all humanity.

You, being part of the aforementioned humanity, have recreation in school as well as in your personal life. (Hear we some skeptical personage asking "How?") To elucidate, then: School dances, Girl Reserve and Hi-Y parties, clubs, class parties, programs, class plays, and many others too numerous to mention.

And now, on the following pages, we present your outside-of-class life in all its glory! Turn the pages and live again your hours of extra-curricular bliss.

What would a basketball game be without yelling, especially organized yelling? Of course, hardly worth attending.

Our cheerleaders, Marilyn Huffman and Patty Hayes, have capably led our yells in the toughest parts of games, spiriting the team and fans on until the last gun.

Also, what would a game be without popcorn, peanuts, candy, and ice cream bars? It might be a contest, but a hungry one, at that—for spectators. So we all owe a vote of thanks to these splendid game "feeders" and to Mr. Warner, their supervisor.

Demonstrating skill and perseverance, Coach Robert Traster has steered H. C. H. S. through its first football season in over 18 years. The broad-shouldered, popular coach has been with us for two years, coaching the football squad, instructing physical fitness classes, and also handling the coaching of the up-and-coming freshmen and junior high basketball teams. With his forceful personality, and pleasing way, Traster is well liked by the entire student body. We salute you, Mr. Traster, for a task well carried out.

. . . herald the arrival of football

Something new has been added.

Football, with all its zestful outdoor air, was welcomed into our rapidly growing sports program last fall with great enthusiasm, after eighteen years of inactivity in that field. Four games were played in the fall—two out of town and two on the home field.

The school was particularly fortunate this year to have the use of the excellent Sigma Phi Gamma Founders Park field, which is surrounded by a cinder track used for the track sports.

Although the inexperienced Airedales did not score in any of the games with Huntington, Portland, Garrett, and Auburn, they showed the will to win and the fighting spirit which characterizes the Gold and Black in all their contests. Participation in football was almost entirely limited to underclassmen this year, except for three seniors: Gene Shady, Bob Kriegbaum and Bob Dee.

Helmets are black, while the football shirts are also black with gold numerals, and gold football pants.

With sincere support, we salute a hard-fighting rapidly developing team, and its praise deserving coach, Mr. Traster. Good luck next year, squad!

Hartford City High School can well be proud of its track coach, Leonard "Johnny" Ireland. In the third year of track sports, the team has been steadily developing under Mr. Ireland's competent and skilled hand into one of the most promising in this district.

Besides handling the regular track sports, "Johnny" also coaches a cross country team, holds down position as school treasurer, as well as teaches bookkeeping. We salute you, Mr. Ireland, for a hard job well done.

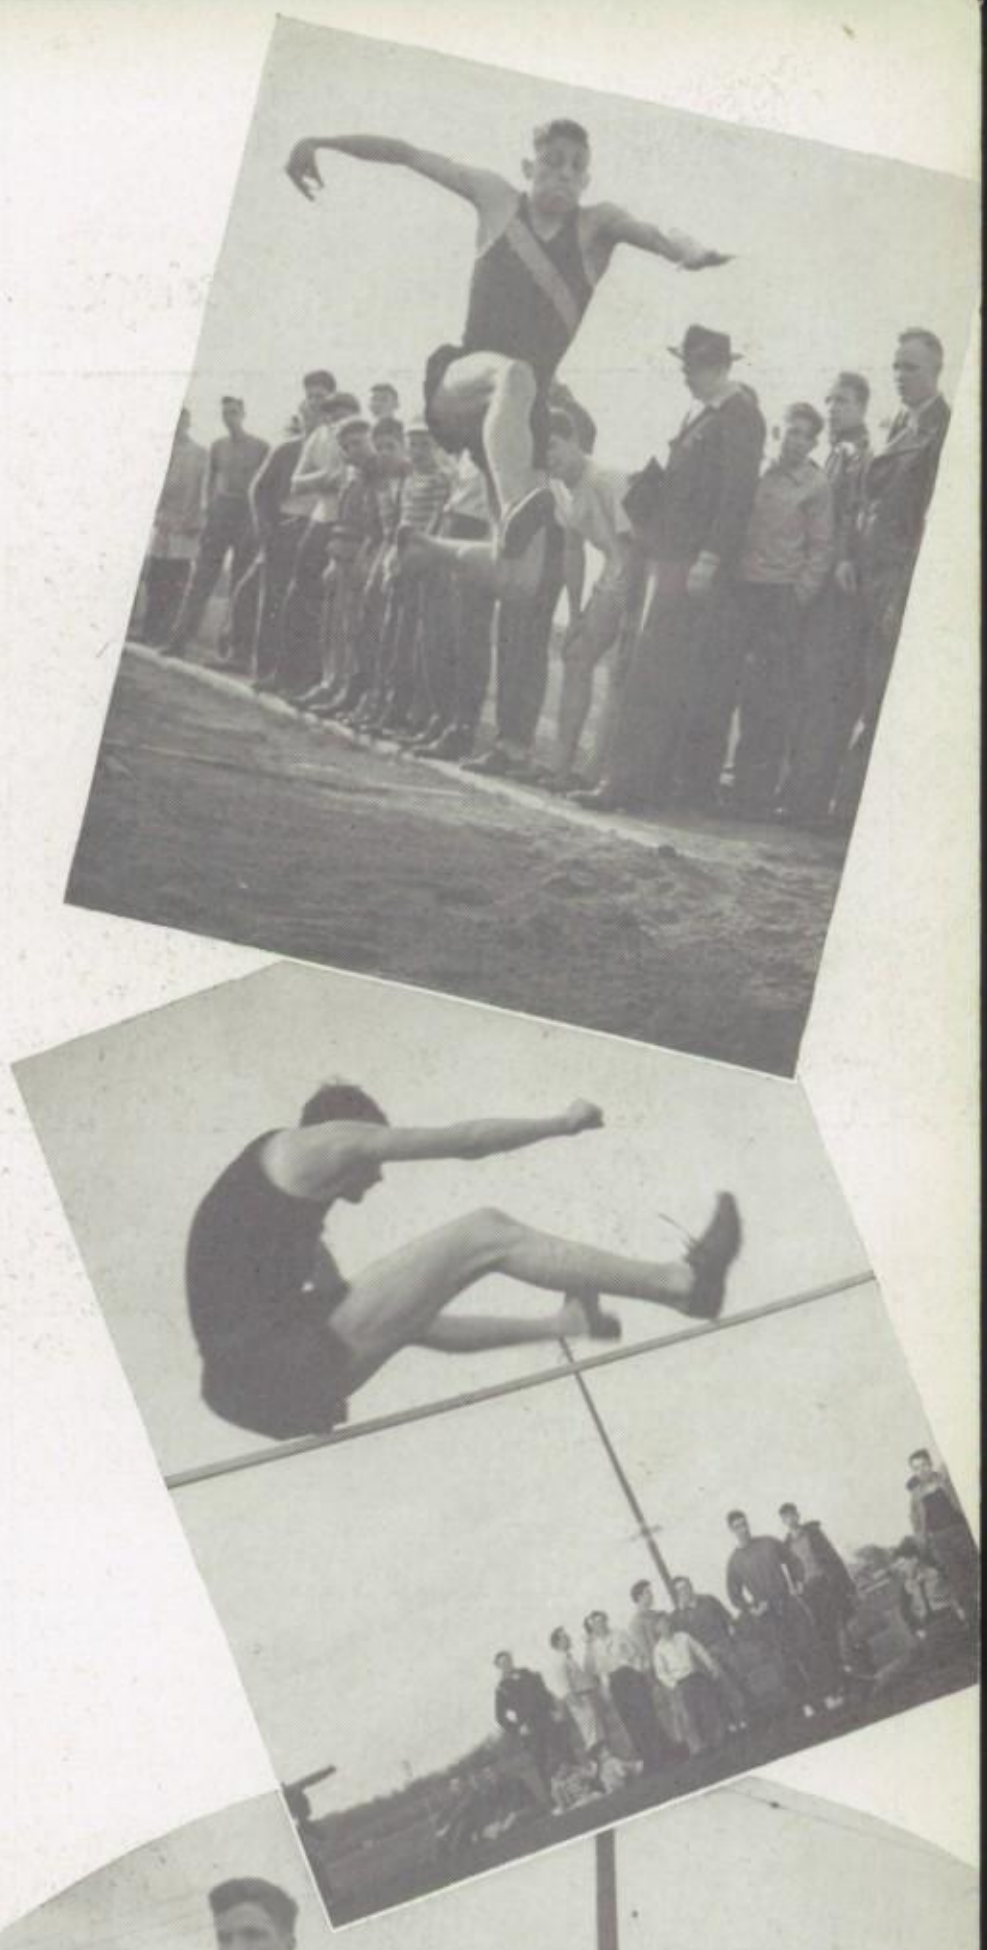
With the close of the 1945 track season, Hartford High had developed several promising athletes. This year the school has had access to the Sigma Phi Gamma track, and this proved a contributing factor in making our track squad into seasoned veterans.

Nine lettermen with ten or more points received their big "T's" this year. Last season the following were point winners: Byron Pursifull, 41 1/2; Edsel Langdon, 39; Dudley Luzadder, 22 3/4; Virgil Davis, 21 1/2; Albert Gillis, 16 3/4; Robert Rice, 14 1/2; Robert Warner, 10 3/4; Melvin Tucker, 10 1/2; and Bill Lamott, 10 1/4. Boys who won points but not letters were: Eugene Kile, 7; Bill Shatto, 5; Clarence Atkinson, 4; Donald Beal, 2 3/4.

A new track sport was introduced this year with the advent of the cross country team. This team, composed of Clarence Atkinson, Bill Bates, Norman Cortright, Ronald Coons, Jack Jones, Gene Kile, Bill Shatto, Junior Taylor, Jack Lytle and Francis Coons, ran against Wabash at Wabash, against Muncie Burris here, against Wabash here, and also participated in a three-way meet with Wabash and Burris at Muncie.

Although the thinlies failed to win any of the meets, several boys showed promise of developing into real runners. Points won were as follows: Atkinson, 33; Bates, 4; Cortright, 8; Kile, 9; Shatto, 8; Taylor, 22; Lytle, 10; Coons, 0.



Langdon gives out everything for the broad-jump.

Kile makes it over the bar during the high-jump.

Jud Erne's Airedale baseball squad, though rather inexperienced, showed up well against their tough 1945 schedule.

With seniors furnishing the nucleus for the 'Dales, the team played eight games despite the weather which caused the cancellation of several games.

In the opener of the '45 season, the diamond boys shellacked Eaton 6-3. They fell victims of the tough Anderson Indians with a low score of 1-0, and cancelled a return with Eaton. Muncie Central's Bearcats were the victors of a thriller which ended 9-7, and the 'Dales were again on the short end of the score when a return with Anderson ended 2-1. Berne Bears won a toughy 7-6, while Portland ran wild on a double header with scores of 13-1, and 13-3. The season's last game was with Anderson, who won 4-3.

Honor for fine work

The high school's new four-point sports program has extended the number of sports awards to a total of five. Last spring these five trophies were given for the first time, by representatives of local civic organizations. The awards were given to those boys who excelled their teammates in the following qualities: ability, attitude toward school and coaching, practice attendance, cooperation with other players, and training.

The traditional Kiwanis Award is now specifically an award to a basketball player. In addition, the Rotary Club now offers a trophy in the field of football, the American Legion for baseball, the Sigma Phi Gamma for track, and the I. O. O. F. gives an "outstanding achievement" trophy to an athlete in any sport. These new awards fan the flame of competition and help to place sports on a character-building plane.

Intramural sports have played an important part in the athletic program this year, with basketball as the sport participated in by several league teams. Mr. Leonard Ireland has again directed the noon-league tilts. Noon-league teams were composed of boys who had their dinner hour free. There were a total of six teams in the league, which played one game each day. George Bennett officiated at the games, while Joe Sumwalt was the score and time keeper.

New to the students this year is the after-school intramural league, under the direction of Mr. Howard Crouse, who returned from the service. This league was made up of boys who did not play on any other organized team in school. There were four teams, which played two games a night—on Monday at 6:00 and Thursday at 4:00. Referees were Bob Dee, Tom Flynn, George Reidy, and Gerald Guy.

"I do too have a letter!" And another athletically-minded student gains admittance to that select organization—the H-Club! (In case you don't know, the "H" stands for He-men.) Parties—loads of fun! Remember the treasure hunt last year! (Ah, yes! We very nearly ran our legs off—only to find we were the last ones back.) And we find Mr. Erne in the star position on this stellar team of H. C. students—with a very capable group of stand-ins for officers.

"He says, 'solid', he says!" And he's talking about the H. C. H. S. Swingsters. Tooting triumphantly through their second year, the Swingsters have really made themselves popular through the halls of Hartford High.

Presiding tunefully over our school dances, the band, under "Limey's" rhythmic hand, added many new songs to their repertoire, among them the popular varsion of Chopin's "Polonaise"—"Till The End of Time".

So we extend orchids to our dance band. We're proud as peacocks of them and wish them all the success in the world!

PRESTON H. S., Press Day, 194. . —Disaster threatened the "Penguin" today as Susan Blake (Helen Peterson) student, assumed the responsibilities of co-editor of the paper.

After exposing Editor Johnny Clover (Jerome Rabbitt), son of Mr. (Frank Kirkpatrick) and Mrs. (Frances McCrum) William Clover, to the measles, the girl journalist was faced with trouble from Principal Henry Quinn (Harold Miller) and Journalism Teacher Martha Willard (Marilyn McKee) for inaccurate reporting. Also disturbed was the Southern firecracker, Lucybelle Lee (Janet Gough) and Spud Ervin (Bob Daniels), whose prom date prospects were damaged. Football star Preston Hughes (Bob Kriegbaum) and some of his squad (Harold Gilland, Richard Cain, Frank Lane, and Gene Shady), in competition for the affections of Lucybelle have helped to threaten a further split in P. H. S. and the staff.

A law violation was also being investigated today by Officer Simmons(Bob Dee), who stated that he had evidence of vandalism against Betsy Ervin (Beverly Thomason) and two male members of the "Penguin" staff. The officer said today that reservations had been made in the state prison for prospective inmates to be sent there after being expelled from P. H. S.—unless unforseen developments arise.

"MR. JUSTICE JIMMY"

The Junior Class Play, "Mr. Justice Jimmy", a proof of the dramatic ability of the class of '47, was the mysterious comedy of the precocious Jimmy Calverton, son of Middeboro's foremost lawyer, and his attempt to prove the innocence of Robert Youman, the suspected thief, and the guilt of Harry Knapp, Jimmy's would-be brother-in-law, in the robbery of a vault.

After two hours of hilarity, the production was brought to a thrilling conclusion by a "real-live" football tackle and the arrival of the police for the arrest of Harry Knapp, the criminal.

Portraying the characters were: John Rosenbaum, Gene Cook, Martha Sue Cronin, Mary Ann Secrest, Janet Piguet, Joyce Frahm, Clyde Allmon, David Rabbitt, Gerald Mowery, Jane Clark, Patty Casterline, Bonnie Boyer, Merlin Jones, George Reidy, Lottie Ashby, Margaret Ball, Bob Hildebrand, Marilyn Huffman, Anne Harvey. Last year, the junior class began the publication of a school newspaper, "The Inkspot". As a result of experience and skill developed, fifteen of those original staff members became members of the Quill and Scroll Society, international honorary society for high school journalists.

To become a member of this society, each student was required to be in the upper third of his class scholastically, to have achieved special merit in journalistic work, to be recommended by Mr. Henderson, adviser, and to have his writing accepted by the national organization. Gold pins were awarded the members at the initiation in March.

All seniors, the fifteen are the first from Hartford City to become members of this society, and we are proud that their work on the newspaper and Retro has brought such recognition to our school.

"Stamp sales—reports from each activity, please!" "You and you and you are on the committee for Mr. Wagner's memory book." "No, sit down." "You know as much about that as we do!" "What? Of course you'll have some help with the book!" "No—you don't auction the stamps off to the highest bidder!" "There's a Student Council party tonight." "Oh, my, but this chili soup's hot!" (This doesn't always happen—but it could, couldn't it?)

Hey! That stuff tasted awful! The egg is getting in my ears. And how can I breathe with tar all over my face! Duck! Here comes another one!

And they have to go through this every year. Not the same ones—but isn't it murder? They say it's worth it, though. What some people can take for Hi-Y membership is beyond us!

"Do you ever look cute! You'd think you'd left half your face at home! And I honestly don't think I could get that many patches on a skirt if I tried!"

But the church initiation was beautiful! Complete with ushers! Looking back, it was really a lot of fun! And, oh boy! Will we get those sophomores next year!

Artists of personality direct . . .

EDSEL LANGDON . . . one of those "big guys" . . . athletically inclined . . . football, basketball, track . . . the "man behind the slide trombone" in Limey's Musicians' Union . . . a tall, dark guy with a good grin—and they call him "Zeke" . . . somewhat shy, but fun to know . . . good worker . . . voted "most likely and likeable" guy in the sophomore class.

DELILAH BAKER . . . the gal with those big blue eyes! . . . cute as a button . . . another member of the exclusive "Old Gym Locker Club" . . . active in Student Council . . . dimples and personality make her the sophomore girl you voted "tops"!

VIRGIL JOHNSON . . . the "Mouse" of the Johnson family . . . and another athletic Johnson, too . . . Student Council member . . . seen mostly in male company . . . heading for the realm of the tall boys . . . blond, nice looking and personality plus . . . a fellow to watch for success and popularity.

ZELLA BANTZ . . . another strawberry blonde . . . cute and peppy . . . chairman of Red Cross box-filling the first semester . . . works hard in Student Council—as well as any place else . . . one-half of a freshman feminine Bantz duet.

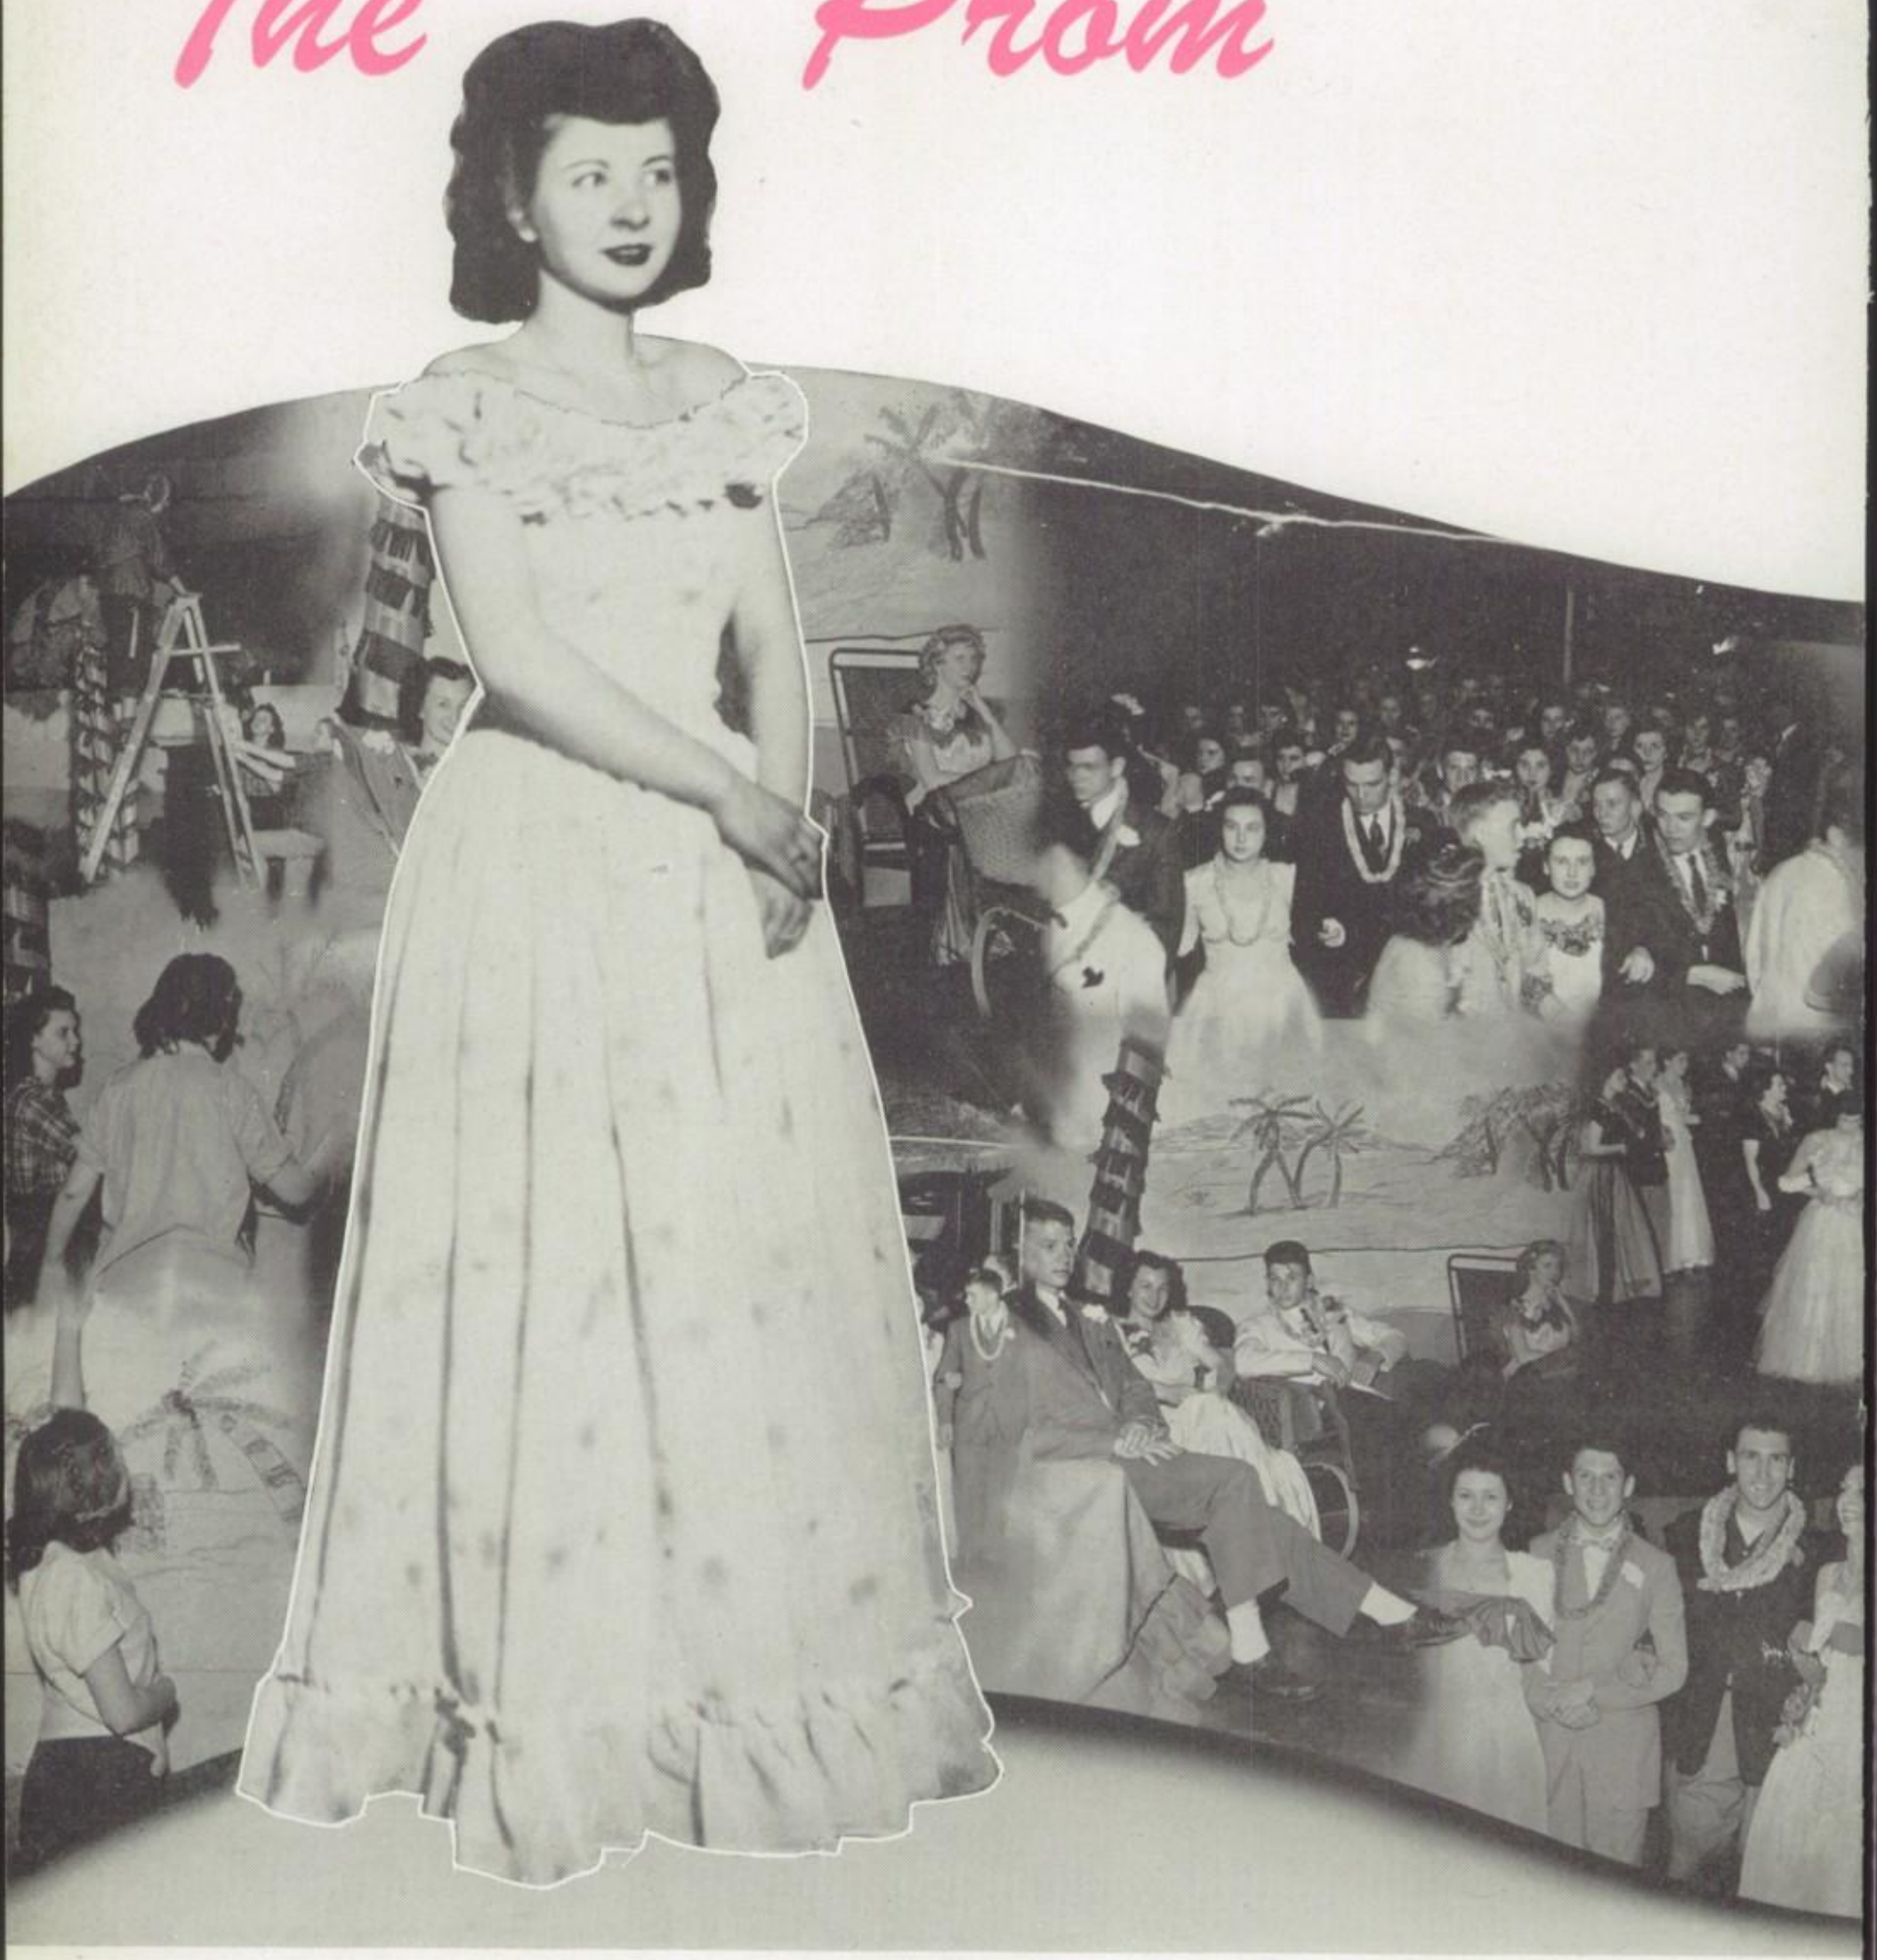
VIRGIL DAVIS . . . one of the "West End" kids . . . has seen much action in basketball, baseball, softball, track, football . . . tall, dark and—oh my! . . . member of the "Kleefisch Klub" . . . pencil pusher for the "Inkspot" . . . likes fun . . . a good worker . . . personality plus . . . plenty popular in his junior class and elsewhere.

MADALYNN LUZADDER . . . a brown haired version of Brother "Dud" in skirts . . . Student Council Member—willing worker . . . one of the exclusive "Old Gym Locker Club" members . . . seen frequently on a long walk through all kinds of weather to school . . . easily one of the "nice-to-know" girls in the junior class.

BOB RICE . . . pint-sized dynamo . . . rather shy . . . but witty, too . . . Desk Editor on "The Inkspot" . . . Assistant Business Manager for "The Retro" . . . our representative at the A & P Co. . . . the man behind the wheel of that little green Ford . . . track tramper in spring . . . cinch for the title of "best all-round fellow" in the senior class.

ESTHER DELL . . . a small, sweet, strawberry, senior blonde . . . a cute smile . . . lots of pep . . . Mr. Brittan's "collector of internal revenue" . . . Morris 5 & 10 cent store floor pacer . . . on D. O. . . . her second year at H. C. H. S., but she's made them count . . . plays marimba and bell lyre . . . Retro faculty editor . . . in short, a swell girl!

The Prom



. . . Height of an artist's glory

In an array of beautiful, varicolored flowers, tall swaying palm trees, a blue heaven, and a full moon, the Junior-Senior Prom Queen, Miss Betty Lou Futrell, was crowned by the Junior Class president, Gene Shady, while the attendants, Marilyn McKee and Helen Peterson, stood at attention.

The Hawaiian Theme permeated the scene still further by the appearance of a Hawaiian hut topped with a thatched roof which enclosed the dance band of Teeny Swain.

Lighting effects were enhanced by a unique rotating chandelier covered with fragments of mirrors which reflected the multi-tinted lights.

Prom celebrities were all given Hawaiian leis, in accord with the South Sea Island theme.
